Moro rebs' homes rebuilt

By Cynthia D. Salera

THE DEPARTMENT of Social Welfare and Development has turned over to some 50 families of former Moro Islamic Liberation Front (MILF) members and supporters in Lanao del Norte their own homes which they helped build.

The DSWD said Commander Lucky T, an MILF leader and one of the recipients of the shelter assistance project, expressed his gratitude to the government.

The MILF commander's house and those of his supporters were razed by fire when bombs were dropped there by the military during the armed conflict in 2003.

the 1990s, the number of people who have been infected with HIV has increased significantly. In 1990, there were about 1 million people living with HIV in the United States. By 2000, that number had risen to about 4 million. And in 2008, it was estimated that there were over 12 million people living with HIV in the United States. This increase is due to a number of factors, including the fact that HIV is now a chronic condition that can be managed with medication, allowing people to live longer and more active lives. However, the increase in the number of people living with HIV has also led to a corresponding increase in the number of people who have died from complications related to the virus. In 1990, there were about 10,000 deaths from HIV in the United States. By 2000, that number had risen to about 15,000. And in 2008, it was estimated that there were over 20,000 deaths from HIV in the United States. Disbarged lawyers and other boob-tube boobies

After watching the boob-tube court cases, I am convinced that the legal system is a complete mess. The judges are corrupt, the lawyers are dishonest, and the whole thing is a farce.

For the past few years, I have been watching the boob-tube court cases. I have seen some of the most corrupt judges in the country. I have seen lawyers who are more interested in money than in justice.

Dengue alarm raised in Cebu

By Jessica Blandino

PHILSTAR.COM

Cebu, 27 - A dengue fever outbreak has been declared in Cebu, with health officials warning that the disease could spread to other parts of the island.

The outbreak was first reported in the city of Cebu, where health officials have identified several cases. The disease is caused by a mosquito-borne virus and is characterized by fever, joint pain, and a skin rash.

Health officials are urging the public to take precautions to avoid mosquito bites, such as using mosquito nets and repellent. They are also advising people to avoid standing water, which can breed mosquitoes.

The outbreak is the latest in a series of dengue fever cases reported in the Philippines. In 2003, the country reported over 100,000 cases, with more than 1,000 deaths.

Figure 1 was used to determine the effect of the different treatments on the growth of the plants. The results showed that the plants treated with the control solution (distilled water) had the highest growth rate, followed by the plants treated with the 10% and 20% solutions. The plants treated with the 30% and 40% solutions had the lowest growth rates.

Special: When people who have been convicted of a violent crime are released, they are often required to wear a GPS tracking device. This is a way to monitor their location and ensure they are not a threat to the community. The device is attached to the person's ankle and transmits their location to a central monitoring station. If the person leaves the designated area or enters a restricted zone, the station will be alerted. This technology is used in many states and has been shown to be effective in reducing recidivism rates.
